SYMPHONY PARK LECTURE SERIES TO FEATURE IN-DEPTH LOOK AT THE SMITH CENTER
Leadership team from The Smith Center for the Performing Arts to present panel discussion

WHAT: The Office of Business Development of the city of Las Vegas and Newland Communities, project manager of Symphony Park, announce the topic of the second Symphony Park Lecture, a program to engage the local community in compelling and pertinent topics germane to Symphony Park, its anchor projects and other quality of life issues in Las Vegas.

The February 10 lecture, The Smith Center for the Performing Arts – A look at how it is launching a new chapter in Las Vegas history – will feature a panel discussion about all aspects of The Smith Center, which is now under construction. Four members of the leadership team will explore a variety of topics relating to The Smith Center, including the expected economic, cultural and quality of life impacts it is having on Southern Nevada; how this world-class performing arts center is transforming the cultural community; and how it is contributing to downtown revitalization.

WHO: Donald D. Snyder, Chairman, The Smith Center
Myron Martin, President & CEO, The Smith Center
Paul Beard, Vice President & COO, The Smith Center
Rick Johnson, Vice President & CFO, The Smith Center

Welcome: Mayor Oscar B. Goodman and Ward 5 Councilman Ricki Y. Barlow, city of Las Vegas
Mistress of Ceremonies: Betsy Fretwell, city manager, city of Las Vegas

WHEN: Wednesday, February 10, 2010
Doors open at 5 p.m.
Lecture begins promptly at 5:30 p.m.
